Week: January 13 - 16, 2020

We will be continuing our penguin adventure this week with a non-fiction text feature book. Like our reindeer unit, students will be completing their own text feature book in class throughout the week. No story will come home to be read this week. On Thursday, students will bring their text feature books home to share all their findings about penguins. In math, we will continue on with chapter 5.
