On Tuesday, we will begin our Everyday Math series. Written math homework will only be given on Tuesdays and Thursdays of each week. In order to ease into our first week of reading, all readers will have the same story this week. We will complete many activities with the story throughout the week and take a written assessment over the story on Friday. This may not be on your child's individual reading level (we are busy leveling students), but will serve as a good transition into our Daily 4 reading routines.

We are also beginning Foundations and Heggerty, both second grade phonics programs.
